

Max	und	Moritz	sind

zwei	freche	Buben.	Sie

ärgern	die	alte	Witwe

Bolte.	Max	und	Moritz

geben	den	Hühnern	Futter mit	verknöteten	Schnüren.	Die

armen	Hühner	sterben	rasch.

Witwe	Bolte	brät	sie.

Heimlich	angeln	die	bösen

Jungen	die	gebratenen	Hühner

durch	den	Kamin,	während

Frau	Bolte	im	Keller

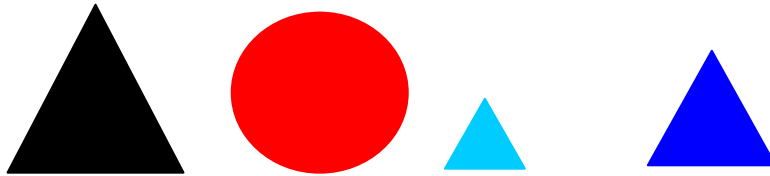

ist.	Sie	denkt,	dass

ihr	Hund	der	dreiste

Räuber	ist	und	verhaut

ihn	mit	einem	Löffel.

Heute	ärgern	die	Jungen den	braven	Schneider	Böck.

Sie	sägen	eine	Lücke

in	die	Brücke,	damit

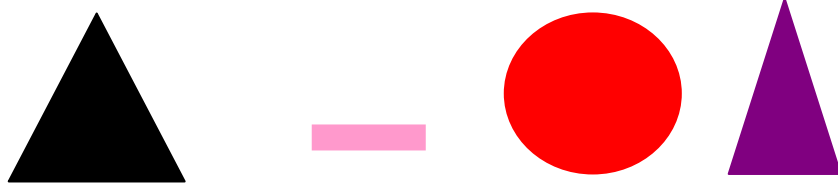

Meister	Böck	ins	Wasser

fällt.	Ein	Gänsepaar	zieht den	armen	Mann	an

Land.	Böck	plagen	starke

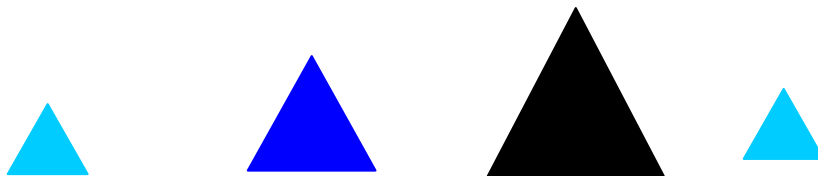

Schmerzen im Bauch. Seine

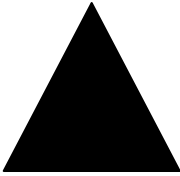

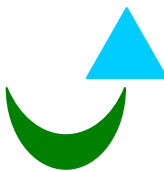

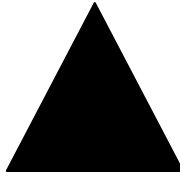

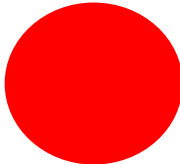

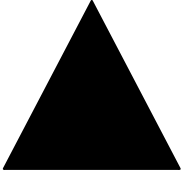

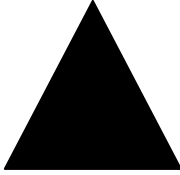

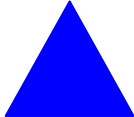

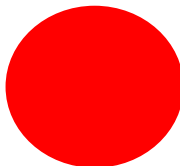

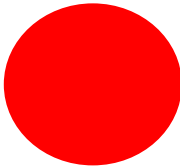

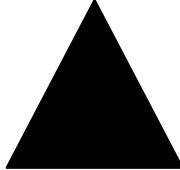

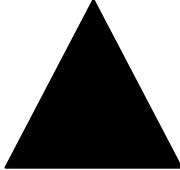

Frau nimmt ein warmes

Bügeleisen und bügelt ihm den kalten Leib. Die

Leute	im	Dorf	freuen

sich,	dass	Meister	Böck

gesund	ist.	Sie	schimpfen auf	Max	und	Moritz.
