

Deutscher Tanz

W. A. Mozart

The musical score is arranged in four systems, each with three staves. The top staff in each system is for Flute (Fl.), the middle for Metallophone (Met.), and the bottom for Xylophone (Xyl.). The time signature is 3/4. The first system shows the initial entries of the instruments. The second system features a more active flute line with eighth-note patterns. The third system includes a repeat sign at the beginning of the flute part. The fourth system continues the flute's melodic line. The score concludes with repeat signs at the end of each system.
